Description of Parcel

The land parcel is relatively large and is located immediately adjacent to the Birmingham conurbation, to the North East of Bromsgrove. To the North West the land parcel follows the A441 Birmingham Road until the road meets Redhill Road, which is followed until joining Brockhill Lane. The southern boundary follows Weatheroak Hill, which turns into Radford Road. The M42 forms the remaining southern boundary. At the M42 Junction 2 the boundary goes north at the A441 Birmingham Road.

The land parcel contains a range of different land uses, including residential properties, a hotel, football club, rugby club, cricket club, playing fields, public houses, a care home and motorway service station. The Worcester and Birmingham Canal (including the West Hill Tunnel) runs through the parcel. However as the land parcel is large its prevailing land use remains open green fields.

There are a number of roads that run through the parcel including Watery Lane running from Weatheroak Hill to Lea End. Lea End Lane which runs from the A441 (Westmead Hotel) across the centre of the parcel to Forhill. The parcel also includes the Roman Road - Icknield Street.

This parcel is dissected by a ridge line which runs from north west to south east through the parcel. North of the ridge line sees the highest points in the parcel, including High Hill (208m) and West Hill (206m). To the south of the ridge the land drops away to a plateau around Hopwood at heights of 120/130m.

Purposes Assessment

	Purpose	Comments	Strength of Contribution
1	To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas	The land parcel abuts the large built up area of Birmingham. The land parcel is mostly free from development; however there are clusters of development within the land parcel along the A441 Birmingham Road however as this development is not near the Birmingham conurbation, it does not constitute as sprawl. Development that does exist within the parcel in the vicinity of the Birmingham border was present in advance of the Green Belt designation in 1975. The boundary adjacent to Birmingham is strong, being the A441 in the north west portion and Redhill Road to the north east portion. Both of these roads appear to have contained Birmingham well as neither road has been breached.	Strong
2	To prevent neighbouring towns from merging	The land parcel constitutes almost half of the gap between Birmingham and Redditch. In conjunction with parcels SE5 and SE8, this parcel prevents the two settlements merging. Loss of openess in this parcel would substantially reduce the gap between these two areas. The land parcel (in conjunction with other parcels) also contributes to maintaining the gap between the settlements of Hollywood, Wythall, Barnt Green, Alvechurch, Cofton Hackett and Birmingham. Development is present along the main road which links Birmingham and Redditch and therefore this element of this purpose means the land parcel is vulnerable to encouraging sprawl between the two areas.	Moderate
3	To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment	The land parcel has an overriding very strong rural sense; it is largely open and exhibits many countryside characteristics. There are a number of urban features that affect its openess, such as clusters of residential properties and other uses such as the football clubs and the motorway service station, however they are very discrete in relation to the size of the parcel and do not detract from the overall strong rural sense. Description of Parcel

This parcel is located to the south of the Birmingham conurbation. The parcel is rural in nature, with the northern boundary directly adjacent to the Birmingham conurbation. It is a large parcel with multiple roads dissecting it.

The Birmingham conurbation to the North is bounded by Bracken Way, Longdales Road and Icknield Street, the parcel boundary then continues into Gay Hill Lane to the East which turns into Middle lane, Clewshaw Lane to the south, turning into Redhill Road to the West. The parcel is bound by strong defensible boundaries on all sides.

The small hamlet of Headley Heath lies along the eastern boundary, with a number of properties of the settlement dispersed along Middle Lane. The parcel is mainly rural with very little development, the most significant development being several houses located along Goodrest Lane. Other than this there are a few examples of sporadic, isolated forms of development mostly agricultural with related dwellings. There is an employment development located on Headley Technology Park Middle Lane and an animal rescue centre (Wythall Animal Rescue) on Middle Lane. Kings Norton Cemetery is also located within the parcel but is contained within its own constrained area bounded by roads to the north of the parcel. The Chinn Brook River is within the parcel.

The highest point in this parcel is on the eastern boundary at Gay Hill Farm (197m). From here, the land falls away slightly in a northwards direction towards edge of the conurbation, to a height of around 160m.

	Purpose	Comments	Strength of Contribution
1	To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas	The parcel is immediately adjacent to the built up area of Birmingham. The urban area of Birmingham has a strong defensible boundary of Longdales Road which currently contains the urban area well as development has not breached this road. The only development which is across the boundary is Lilycroft Farm and Kings Norton Cemetery. Lilycroft farm was present in advance of the Green Belt designation in 1975. Kings Norton Cemetery is deemed to be an appropriate use in the Green Belt. The land parcel is largely free from development, other than small examples of sporadic development. The most significant occurrence of development is several dwellings located along Goodrest Lane, which is not considered to be sprawl. Therefore the parcel does have a strong sense of openness.	Strong
2	To prevent neighbouring towns from merging	This parcel is adjacent to the large built-up area of Birmingham and is to the north of Redditch Town and to the west of Hollywood. The parcel in conjunction with other parcels constitutes the majority of a gap between Birmingham and Hollywood. A loss of openness in this parcel would substantially reduce the existing gap.	Moderate
3	To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment	This parcel has a strong rural sense and many countryside features, it contains very few dwellings and is mainly comprised of farmland. There are sporadic urban features such as the Headley Technology park but these are isolated and forms of development and do not appear to demonstrate encroachment.	Strong

Parcel NE3 is located in the north-east of the district, adjacent to the southern edge of Birmingham's urban area within the West Midlands conurbation. It is rural in nature, contains a number of lanes across the centre and the Chinn Brook crosses in the north-west of the parcel. The parcel is largely open with a small number of farm buildings located throughout. A care home (Moundsley Hall) and park (Walkers Heath) are located in the north-west corner of the parcel and some localised residential development is located in the southern half of the parcel, along Dark Lane, Packhorse Lane and Middle Lane/Silver Street.

The boundaries of the parcel are made up of Druids Lane to the north (with a small section made up of Walkers Heath Road and the rear or properties off Chelworth Road in the north-west corner), the A435 to the east, a small section of Silver Street to the south, and Middle Lane/Gay Hill Lane to the west. The northern half (north of Dark Lane) of the parcel rises fairly steeply from north (160m close to Druid's Heath) to south with a large mound around Crabmill Farm (off Crabmill Lane) representing the highest point at over 190m. The southern half (south of Dark Lane) of the parcel has a predominantly flat topography.

A very small area of the parcel in the extreme north-west, off Walkers Heath Road, lies within Birmingham City's administrative area with the remainder of the parcel being within Bromsgrove District.

1	To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas	The parcel, along its northern boundary, is adjacent to the large built up area of Birmingham with the residential areas of Walkers Heath and Druids Heath to the north. The vast majority of the boundary between the parcel and the built up area is Druids Lane, with a small part of the boundary in the north-west corner of the parcel being made up of Walkers Heath Road and the rear of properties off Chelworth Road. 2	To prevent neighbouring towns from merging	The parcel lies adjacent to the southern edge of Birmingham, with Hollywood and Wythall to the east of the parcel and Redditch much further to the south. In conjunction with Parcels NE4 and NE6, the parcel constitutes the entirety of the gap between Birmingham and Hollywood and Birmingham and Wythall respectively. Despite the location of the A435 between Parcel NE3 and the settlements to the east, a loss of openness in this parcel would have a negative impact on the existing gap in physical and/or visual terms.	Moderate

Description of Parcel

Parcel NE4 is located in the north-east of the district, between Maypole on the southern edge of Birmingham, the settlement of Hollywood and the A435. The parcel is relatively open in nature and predominantly made up of agricultural land, although there is a higher concentration of urbanising features in the south of the parcel along Silver Street, Batemans Lane and Packhorse Lane.

The boundaries of the parcel are made up of Alcester Road to the north and east (where the parcel lies adjacent to Hollywood), Silver Street to the south, and the A435 to the west. The parcel is relatively flat at heights of 170-180m above sea level. There are some undulations in the centre, with lower lying ground between Dark Lane and Packhorse Lane and Packhorse Lane and Silver Street.

Description of Parcel

Parcel NE5 is located in the north-east of the district, between the southern edge of the conurbation comprising parts of Birmingham City and Solihull Borough, and the settlements of Hollywood and Majors Green in Bromsgrove District. Whilst the parcel is generally surrounded by built development, it is relatively open itself and predominantly made up of agricultural land and natural/semi-natural greenspace. There are some scattered farm buildings in the parcel, particularly to the south, off Trumans Heath Lane. Hollywood Golf Club is a prominent feature in the south-west of the parcel and sports pitches are present in the far north-eastern corner.

The boundaries of the parcel are made up of Maypole Lane (including the rear of residential properties to the south of Maypole Lane) to the north/north-west, Peterbrook Road to the north and east (including along the built up edge of Majors Green), Trumans Heath Lane and the edge of the built up area of Hollywood (including along Hollywood Lane) to the south/south-west, and a small section of Alcester Road to the west. The north-eastern most part of the parcel (to the north and east of Majors Green) extends in an irregular shape beyond Peterbrook Road to the east of the canal, where the railway line forms the eastern boundary in this location.

The parcel’s topography is relatively flat (at heights of 170-180m) although generally falls in a north-west to south-east direction.

Description of Parcel

Parcel NE6 is located in the north-east of the district, lying predominantly between the settlements of Wythall and Hollywood but also stretching east to Majors Green. The parcel is relatively open and predominantly comprises agricultural land and natural/semi-natural greenspace. There are a number of farm buildings and isolated dwellings in the parcel, with a more defined collection of residential dwellings in the west of the parcel, off Silver Street. There are a range of other individual developments in the parcel, including a nursery/landscape centre, public house and commercial developments off Houndsfield Lane and Alcester Road.

The parcel is an irregular shape and the boundaries of the parcel are made up of Silver Street/Houndsfield Lane (along the built up edge of Hollywood) and Trumans Heath Lane to the north, the Birmingham-Stratford on Avon ('Shakespeare Line') railway line to the east, the built up edge of Wythall to the south and the A435 to the west.

The topography of the parcel rises and falls in a north-south direction along Alcester Road and Lea Green Lane, with lower lying land in the centre of the parcel where a brook/stream runs west to east and joins the River Cole in the east of the parcel. Land also falls from west to east in the north-east of the parcel towards the River Cole. The highest point of the parcel is 170m being at Wythall Nursery, off Wilmore Lane.

Purposes Assessment

	Purpose	Comments	Strength of Contribution
1	To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas	The parcel is not immediately adjacent to a large built up area and therefore plays no role in checking unrestricted sprawl.	No Contribution
2	To prevent neighbouring towns from merging	The western half of the parcel forms the entirety of the gap between Wythall and Hollywood, whilst the eastern/north-eastern half of the parcel forms the entire gap between Wythall and Majors Green, as well as the gap between Hollywood and Majors Green in conjunction with the adjacent Parcel NE5.  A loss of openness in this parcel would cause both physical and visual merging and significantly reduce the existing gap between settlements.	Strong
3	To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment	The parcel has a rural sense, with land predominantly in agricultural use or natural/semi-natural greenspace and the parcel is largely open. There is however a range of urbanising development that detracts from the sense of openness across the parcel, including a small rural industrial estate and permanent gypsy and traveller site off Houndsfield Lane, a timber yard and Drakes Court office development off Alcester Road, and some development off Silver Street/Wilmore Lane in the very west of the parcel.  The parcel is considered to only exhibit some countryside characteristics, as opposed to many, and therefore is only deemed to exhibit a rural sense rather than a very strong rural sense.	Moderate

Parcel NE7 is located on the very north-eastern edge of Bromsgrove District, and is in fact predominantly within the neighbouring authority of Solihull. The parcel is predominantly open natural/semi-natural greenspace, particularly in the west of the parcel alongside the River Cole. The former White Lakes golf course previously occupied the north-east of the parcel, which retains openness in this part of the parcel. There are a large number of established trees and hedgerows which cross the parcel and the River Cole runs from south to north in the western half of the parcel and forms the administrative boundary between Bromsgrove District and Solihull Borough.

There are a number of large residential properties in the south-east of the parcel along Tilehouse Lane and Lowbrook Lane, in the settlement of Tidbury Green within Solihull Borough. A new residential development (currently under construction for 200 dwellings) off Lowbrook Lane in Solihull is excluded from the parcel due to its previous release from Green Belt designation.

The parcel is bounded by Houndsfield Lane to the north, Tilehouse Lane to the east, Lowbrook Lane and the rear of properties on Norton Lane to the south, and the Birmingham-Stratford on Avon ('Shakespeare Line') railway line to the west. Slightly higher ground exists in the north-east of the parcel with a gradual fall in a south-west direction, towards the River Cole. The land is generally at a height of 140m.

1	To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas	The parcel is not immediately adjacent to a large built up area and therefore plays no role in checking unrestricted sprawl.	No Contribution
2	To prevent neighbouring towns from merging	The parcel lies in between Wythall to the west and the settlement of Dickens Heath in Solihull to the east. In conjunction with Green Belt land to the east of Parcel NE7 within Solihull, the parcel forms the entirety of the gap.  Despite a railway line running between Wythall and the parcel, a loss of openness would lead to physical and visual merging and substantially reduce the existing gap between the settlements. This is particularly relevant in the north of the parcel where any loss of openness within the Solihull Green Belt would result in the potential for the two settlements to physically join due to their close proximity.	Moderate
3	To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment	Whilst the parcel is relatively open, residential development in the south-east of the parcel at Tidbury Green (Solihull) does have an impact on the rural sense.  There is little in the way of urbanising development present within the parcel, especially as new (under construction at the time of writing) residential development off Lowbrook Lane is excluded from the parcel. However there are also few countryside characteristics exhibited and therefore the parcel is only considered to have a limited rural sense.	Weak

The parcel is located between Birmingham and Redditch. The land parcel is located to the east of Bromsgrove District, to the north of the M42 motorway between Junctions 2 and 3.

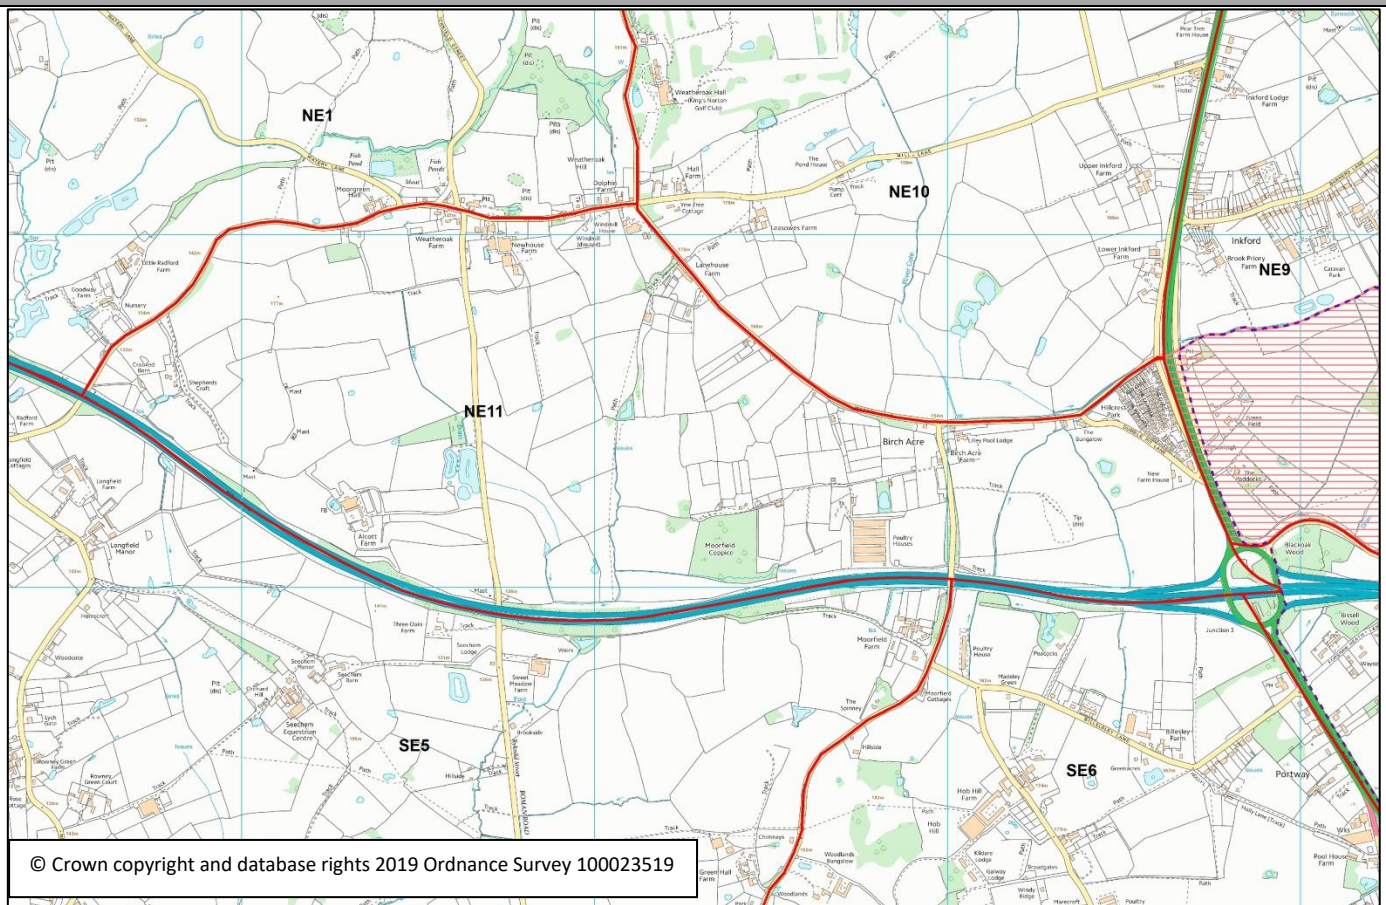

The land parcel is bound to the north by Radford Road, Weatheroak Hill and Watery Lane, and to the east by the A345 Alcester Road. The parcel is bounded to the south entirely by the M42 Motorway and continues until meeting Radford Road.

The parcel is mainly green fields, with a limited number of residential dwellings, including the small settlement of Weatheroak Hill which is partially within this parcel. A small number of employment uses and Hillcrest Static Caravan Park are located off the A435.

There are three key roads which run through the land parcel including Dumble Pit Lane, Liley Green Road and Icknield Street, which cross the parcel north to south.

This parcel is dominated by a high mound of 177m in the west, before the land drops down in the middle of the parcel. It rises up again in the north towards the crossroads at Weatheroak Hill and a height of 180m.

Purposes Assessment

	Purpose	Comments	Strength of Contribution
1	To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas	The land parcel is not adjacent to a large built up area and therefore plays no role in checking unrestricted sprawl.	No Contribution
2	To prevent neighbouring towns from merging	The parcel is located between Birmingham and Redditch and also between Wythall and Redditch. The parcel, in conjunction with other land parcels constitutes the majority of a gap between Birmingham and Redditch, Alvechurch and Wythall and Wythall and Redditch. There is a static caravan park within the parcel and part of a Weatheroak Hill within the parcel; however this urbanising development would not mean this land is vulnerable due to the high level of openness in the majority of the parcel.	Moderate
3	To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment	The land parcel has a rural sense and exhibits countryside characteristics but there are some urbanising features along the A345 Alcester Road of the static caravan park and garage which include street lighting and hard standing. There are some urbanising features in the vicinity of Weatheroak Hill which is within the parcel.	Moderate
