Alvechurch

Scarfield Wharf Stables Scarfield Hill B48 7SQ Alvechurch BDC ID ALV001

Description / Summary

Stable building, probably built in 1861 after the 1847 wharf enlargement. A smaller building appears on the 1842 tithe map, and this may be incorporated in the current building, but there are no obvious indications in the building fabric. Scarfield Wharf was originally constructed around 1806, following the construction of the canal stretch between Hopwood and Tardebigge, and included a winding hole, stables, machine house and weighbridge, the latter of which was taken from Hopwood Wharf. in 1808 the wharf was the southern terminus for a horse-drawn packet boat service, conveying goods and people between Alvechurch and Birmingham, although this enterprise only lasted 5 years. The stables likely used bricks from the then nearby Wynn's Brickworks, which operated from 1860-1939.

Age, Authenticity and Rarity

Mid-19th century with possible earlier parts incorporated. There are minimal signs of change to principal form and fabric since 1861, although windows and rainwater goods appear to be modern. The building is one of only a handful of surviving historic wharf buildings in the area.

Architectural Interest

Simple, utilitarian form with interesting brickwork.

Historic Interest

Historic association with the canal, particularly associated with Wynn's Brickworks as probable supplier for its principal fabric, and subsequent occupier as the brickworks leased the wharf for transporting its goods.

Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape Inter

Positive contribution to canal corridor, strengthening the line of the bridge and marking an intersection of travel modes.

New Alvechurch Marina Building
Scarfield Hill	B48 7SQ	Alvechurch	BDC ID	ALV002

Description / Summary

Marina Offices and Chandlery, built in the 1980s-90s, to designs from local firm Frank Helm Associates.

Age, Authenticity and Rarity

Late 20th century, but an authentic and unique design; possibly the only purpose-designed modern canal building in the area.

Architectural Interest

Unique, modern form appearing to reference the 'cloth and plank' cargo section of historic working canal boats. The building is designed specifically for visual interest as opposed to a utilitarian 'shed'.

Historic Interest

The conversion of the wharf from industrial use to leisure use was a key moment in is history and ensured its ongoing survival as a piece of canal infrastructure. The Marina building has been the hub of local canal life for over 40 years.

Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape Inter

Positive contribution to canal corridor, modern but not jarring or harmful.

The Weighbridge Freehouse
Scarfield Hill	B48 7SQ	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV003
Description / Summary
Pub, originally weighbridge office			-
expansion. It was converted to a	a pub in the late 20	Oth century after falling int	o disuse.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity	· · · ·
Mid-19th century with 20th cent weigh bridge building in the are		pub. Exterior is well preser	ved; the only known surviving
Architectural Interest
Symmetrical composition, caser first floor window to gable facir		raking surrounds, decorati	ve brick hood moulds, large
Historic Interest
Historic association with the car	nal function, weigh	ning goods for further transi	it at the road intersection,
more recent social/communal in	mportance as a pul	b gathering place.
Townscape/Villagescape/Landso	cape Inter
Positive contribution to canal co	•	tersection of travel modes.
	U
Hopwood Village Hall
Birmingham Road	B48 7AL	Hopwood	BDC ID ALV011
Description / Summary
Village Hall, formerly a lemonad	de factory given to	the village by F.J.Batchelo	r, extended, converted and opened in 1914.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Largely early 20th century conv	ersion with late 20	th century windows. Overa	ll form is well preserved.
Architectural Interest
Large, striking bay window facir	ng Birmingham Roa	d, rowlock brick with plain	tile window cills.
Historic Interest
	g been gifted to th	e village and a locus of co	mmunity life for over 100 years.
nistorie communat vatae, naving			initiality the for over foo years.
Townscape/Villagescape/Landso	•
Positive feature, standing forwa	rd of predominant	building line Marks a 'soco	and control for Honwood villago
vs the canal bridge.		building line. Marks a seco	ind centre for hopwood vittage

Wharf Cottages
Callow Hill Road	B48 7LR	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV013
Description / Summary
Cottages, formerly stables to around the 1920s.	Callow Hill Wharf fro	m mid-19th century, wh	ich operated as a coal yard until
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Mid-19th construction showir gives credence to the rumou nearby St. Lawrence's church infilled.	r that the stone was re	epurposed from Butterfie
Architectural Interest
Use of coursed, roughly squa unusually low pitch.	red stone, possibly tak	ken from the village chur	rch. The slate roof has an
Historic Interest
Historic association with the	canal's industrial use a	and the associated coal f	ield.
Townscape/Villagescape/Lar Positive contribution to cana	•	ersection of travel mode	25.
The Bakery, 1A
Latimer Road	B48 7NP	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV014
Description / Summary
Part of former bakehouse, in	terwar, converted to o	dwelling in 1980s/90s.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity Interwar building with later porches and dormer may be	modifications, showing		s reasonably well preserved;
Architectural Interest
Lancet Gothic features, rare gambrel roof and string cour			rdian style dominated. Reversed
Historic Interest
Part of original bakery servin	g workers on interwar	"New Station Road" esta	te, near train station.
Townscape/Villagescape/Lar	ndscape Inter
	•		· · · · ·

Unique building within an otherwise homogenous streetscape, positive contribution.

Rosemary Cottages
Bittell Road	B48 7BN	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV018
Description / Summary
19th century cottages wi	th functional connection	to canal and needle maki	ing industry.
Age, Authenticity and Ra	rity
19th century, present on	1842 tithe map. Simple/	typical form, modernised	with render and UPVC windows.
Architectural Interest
Historic Interest
•			e sons, he was a 'Canal Labourer' eedle making is important to the

Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape Inter

Positive contribution to reservoir and canalside landscape; unusual interjection sitting in lowland adjacent to embanked, raised canal.

area; it is not clear if the house itself hosted cottage industry needle making.

457
Birmingham Road	B97 6RL	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV022
Description / Summary
Interwar, modernist dwelling.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Constructed between 1927 and 1938, in overall form.	in a moderr	nist style, rare in the reg	ion, and reasonably well preserved
Architectural Interest
Unusual and well executed modernist	t dwelling.
Historic Interest
Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape	Inter
Positive contribution to streetscape a	as a standout	t piece of architectural c	lesign.

The Crown Inn
Withybed Lane	B48 7PN	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV031
Description / Summary
19th century boaters' inn, known loca bridge that was nearby.	ally as the 'Drawb	ridge' or 'Heave-up' due to th	e former vertical lift
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
19th century, well preserved with in	n and attached st	able block intact; some later	subservient additions.
Architectural Interest
Simple architecture with some intere floor windows, timber shutters to fir with light headers.			-
Historic Interest
Social importance to village; historic	ally more so to th	e canal and local Withybed o	community.
Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape	Inter
Positive contribution to canal corrido Withybed Green.	or and road, mark	ing intersection of travel mo	des and gateway to
Havencroft Nursing Home
Formerly The Elms, Birmingham Roa	B48 7AS	Hopwood	BDC ID ALV032
Description / Summary
Large, late 19th century house occup	oying a prominent	position in Hopwood, now a	care home.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Late 19th century with well preserve	ed frontage, but h	eavily extended to rear.
Architectural Interest
Asymmetrical composition with three pediment; main entrance to central modillioned, moulded cornice and sh	bay with moulded	, two centred arch and brick	-
Historic Interest
Original high status dwelling, occupie almhouses to Belbroughton (Wood La		ker, widower of Richard Skie	dmore. Baker gave
Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape	Inter

Landmark building in streetscape with mature tree screen to frontage.

1 & 2 Birmingham Road
1 & 2 Birmingham Road, Hopwood	B48 7TR	Hopwood	BDC ID ALV036
Description / Summary
19th century canal cottages associat	ed with original H	lopwood Wharf.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Early to mid-19th century, plan form	1 and simplicity pr	eserved, but otherwise mod	ernised.
Architectural Interest
Simple cottages, painted brick and r	ecently re-roofed	in clay tiles.
Historic Interest
Only surviving remnant of Hopwood canal workers including fume extrac			wharf's activities, housed
Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape Forms gateway with pub opposite, m		f canal/road intersection and	the beginning of the southern portion of the village.			the beginning of the Post Office and Adjoining Building, 1
Bear Hill	B48 7JX	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV037
Description / Summary
18th century former grammar school	l, later post office	and shops in village centre.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
18th century origins with later modi	fications, but reas	onably well preserved overa	ll form and materials.
Architectural Interest
Hipped slate roof with brick stacks, rendered unit, with bow window to g right hand unit and attractive, curve	ground floor shop.		,
Historic Interest
Originally a grammar school for the various guises.	village, later post	office and shops; a central p	part of village life under its
Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape	Inter
Marks the edge of the retail/comme opposite.		e village, forming a gateway	with the village hall

Town Mill
Radford Road	B48 7LD	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV038
Description / Summary
Former flour mill dating from 1875 a	t the edge of the	village centre, now converte	ed into commercial offices.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Late 19th century, converted and mo remaining industrial building in local		facing frontage is preserved	. Rare example of
Architectural Interest
Designed by locally renowned archite responsible for a number of schools a is three storeys with four bays, regul	and churches, and	-
Historic Interest
Historic economic importance to the	village as a place	of industry and employment	t.
Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape	Inter
Set back from the road, marks the e		on the eastern extent along	Radford Road.
The Old School House
School Lane	B48 7SA	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV039
Description / Summary
Dwelling constructed circa 1856, orig	ginally attached to	o adjacent former school as s	schoolmaster's house.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Mid-19th century, extended and ada	pted, but main bo	dy and more decorative east	façade remain intact.
Architectural Interest
Designed by renowned architect Will tiled roof and off-centre, stepped br windows. Ground floor has two caser arches above, and a central, stepped doubles as its roof.	rick stack. First flo ment windows und	oor has black brick diapering der flat, polychromatic arche	and three casement s with segmental relieving
Historic Interest
Connection with the adjacent school	, built to serve th	e parish in the 19th century.
Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape	Inter
Limited, edge of village and not part		t.

Methodist Chapel
Chapel Lane	B48 7QH	Rowney Green	BDC ID ALV040
Description / Summary
Wesleyan chapel built in	1869, remains in use as vi	illage church.
Age, Authenticity and Ra	rity
Mid-late 19th century, ex	ktended to rear but other	wise well preserved, local	ly rare.
Architectural Interest
Simple, understated but	with distinctive classical	features; clearly non-confo	rmist.
Historic Interest
Local communal importa	nce to village as a spiritua	al base and centre of comm	nunity life.
Local commanal importa
Townscape/Villagescape	/Landscape Inter

Baptist Chapel
Red Lion Street	B48 7LG	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV041
Description / Summary
Baptish chapel built in 1860, remains	; in use as a Bar	ptist church.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Mid-19th century, extended and adap Sunday school to rear added 1928 by	,		5
Architectural Interest
Designed by well-known architect Jan architect of, inter alia, the grade II* church has grouped lancet windows i dor has a similar arch, whilst two sm The buidling is mainly brick and inclu	listed pump ro n stone tracery all windows eit	ooms at Tenbury Well v, with a sawtooth br her side of the centr	s. The church northeast gable of the ick, pointed arch. The east entrance
Historic Interest
Local communal importance to villag	e as a spiritual	base and centre of o	community life.

Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape Inter

Positive contribtution to screetscene; set back from established frontage line, but making its presence known through its decorative quality.

Station Road	B48 7SE	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV042
Description / Summary
Railway station built in 1859 as part	of the Reddit	ch railway. Now in use as	a children's nursery.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Mid-19th century, extended and mo	dified but the	principal form is intact.	The only station in this parish.
Architectural Interest
Simple single storey brick building w with keyblocks.	vith deep verge	e overhangs. Windows ha	ve rendered segmental arches
Historic Interest
Important transport node historicall for growth of the village towards the	, ,	lvechurch to surrounding	towns and Birmingham; catalyst
Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape	e Inter
Limited contribution due to location	n and scale.
Bordesley Park Farmhouse, Beoley
Dagnell End Road	B98 9BH
Dagnett Ena Road	B70 7BH	Beoley	BDC ID ALV045
Description / Summary	D70 7011	Beoley	BDC ID ALV045
Description / Summary Bordesley Park Farm, Alvechurch. Pa
Description / Summary Bordesley Park Farm, Alvechurch. Pa buildings.	artially extant	17th century unlisted fai
Description / Summary Bordesley Park Farm, Alvechurch. Pa buildings. Age, Authenticity and Rarity	artially extant	17th century unlisted fai
Description / Summary Bordesley Park Farm, Alvechurch. Pa buildings. Age, Authenticity and Rarity Farmstead with 17th century origins	artially extant s, now in use a al brick buildir framing is visi	17th century unlisted far s a wedding venue. ng, with some diapering, ble to the rear, and one	rmstead with unconverted segmental arched windows and a of the outbuildings has a gable
Description / Summary Bordesley Park Farm, Alvechurch. Pa buildings. Age, Authenticity and Rarity Farmstead with 17th century origins Architectural Interest The main farmhouse is a fairly typic prominent east gable stack. Timber dovecote which matches with an our	artially extant s, now in use a al brick buildir framing is visi	17th century unlisted far s a wedding venue. ng, with some diapering, ble to the rear, and one	rmstead with unconverted segmental arched windows and a of the outbuildings has a gable
Description / Summary Bordesley Park Farm, Alvechurch. Pa buildings. Age, Authenticity and Rarity Farmstead with 17th century origins Architectural Interest The main farmhouse is a fairly typic prominent east gable stack. Timber	artially extant s, now in use a al brick buildir framing is visi tbuilding on th	17th century unlisted far s a wedding venue. ng, with some diapering, ble to the rear, and one	rmstead with unconverted segmental arched windows and a of the outbuildings has a gable
Description / Summary Bordesley Park Farm, Alvechurch. Pa buildings. Age, Authenticity and Rarity Farmstead with 17th century origins Architectural Interest The main farmhouse is a fairly typic prominent east gable stack. Timber dovecote which matches with an our Historic Interest	artially extant s, now in use a cal brick buildin framing is visi tbuilding on th ey Hall.	17th century unlisted far s a wedding venue. ng, with some diapering, ble to the rear, and one	rmstead with unconverted segmental arched windows and a of the outbuildings has a gable

Alpine Lodge Farm (Lodge Farm), AK	A Rowney Green F	Farm, Rowney Green
Rowney Green Lane	B48 7QZ	Rowney Green	BDC ID ALV046
Description / Summary
Early 19th century farmstead.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
At least 1842 (present on tithe maps east façade is relatively well preserv
Architectural Interest
Farmhouse appears to follow Georgia a rounded arched entrance fanlight. possibly original; the remainder are	The upper centra	l and right windows are 4 ove
Historic Interest
No known notable associations or inh	abitants.
	latar
Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape Positive contribution to landscape as		rvod farmstoad
Village Hall, Bear Hill, Alvechurch
Bear Hill	B48 7JX	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV047
Description / Summary
Early 20th century village hall.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Built in 1929, principal features are	preserved althoug	h windows appear to have be	en replaced with UPVC.
Architectural Interest
Designed by Bloomer and Gough, red headers and has contrasting brick qu crease lintels, whilst those on the ma decorative brick and tile sub-cills. Do timber dormers to the roof, with a lo	ioining. Windows t ain body of the bu oors have vertical	to the east projecting gable h uilding are set between brick , riveted timber bars. There	nave multi-layered, tile pilasters and have
Historic Interest
Historic communal interest as a socia	al hub to the villa	ge.
Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape	Inter
Prominent building on Bear Hill with		ıral character.
5

Tunnel House, Wast Hills Lane, Alveo	church
Wast Hills Lane	B48 7AT	Hopwood	BDC ID ALV048
Description / Summary
House adjacent to south entrance to and boarded up.	Wast Hills tunnel	, probably late 18th century	. Currently unoccupied
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Late-18th century, updated roof and form is well preserved. Unique build	•	•	otentially historic, overall
Architectural Interest
Simple brick building with clay tiled arches with a bottom row of red, ro
Historic Interest
Historically associated with the cana	l tunnel's operation	on, important to local indust	ry and commerce.
Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape	Inter
Prominent feature on Wast Hills Lane which is otherwise hidden in a deep	-	badside and helping to mark t	the presence of the canal
2, 4, and 6 Swan Street, Alvechurch
Swan Street	B48 7RP	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV049
Description / Summary
Row of 18th century cottages, origin	ally a workhouse,	now three dwellings includi	ng a barbers in number 4.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
18th century origins, evidence of wo indications. Number 4's ground floor		•	-
Architectural Interest
Two-storey, linear brick range with s string at first floor level and segmen signs of an older building beneath, in	tal brick arches to	o ground floor windows. The	building's plinth shows
Historic Interest
Historical use as a workhouse is of in	iterest, important	to the area's social history.

Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape Inter

Not highly significant, but maintains the continuous building line along the west side of Swan Street.

Groveley Hall (Groveley H	ouse), Alvechurch
Birmingham Road	B31 4UH	Hopwood	BDC ID ALV050
Description / Summary
Originally 16th century fai	rmstead with substantial	later alterations and	extensions, now a dwelling.
Age, Authenticity and Rar	ity
16th century origins, heav visible externally.	ily modified and extende	ed, but rare for its ag	e. Some parts of timber frame still
Architectural Interest
Timber frame and brick fa	Irmhouse, large modern I	orick extensionsare o	f low interest.
Historic Interest
-	combes in 1548-9, and ag	ain to Sir John Lytte	nd granted to Sir Ralph Sadleir in ton in 1550. Early in the 19th century
Townscape/Villagescape/	Landscape Inter
Positive contribution to la	ndscape as a partially pr	eserved farmstead.
Station Road Bridge (Bridg Station Road	ge 60), Worcester and Bir B48 7SQ	mingham Canal, Alve Alvechurch	church BDC ID ALV051
Description / Summary
Early 19th century road ca	anal road bridge.
Age, Authenticity and Rar	ity
	kwork below road surfac	e level. The lower pa	verall form is retained, as are stone rts of the arch stilt arrises, towpath e wear.
Architectural Interest
Stilted arch road bridge, f	airly typical design, ston	e end pier caps rema	in.
Historic Interest
Important as adjacent to f also.	first wharf on this sectior	n of the canal, key in	tersection for passenger boat trips
Townscape/Villagescape/	Landscape Inter
Positive contribution as ty	•	l bridge within canal	environment

Bittell Farm Road	B45 8BJ	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV052
Description / Summary
Early 19th century road cana	l accommodation bric	ge.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Early 19th century. North sid	e substantially rebuil	, but south side is substa	ntially original.
Architectural Interest
Stilted arch road bridge, fair	y typical design, rour	nded stone coping to sout	h parapet remains.
Historic Interest
Marker of canal history, conn	ecting local Bittell Fa	rm with its land.
Fownscape/Villagescape/Lan Positive contribution as typic	•	I bridge within constant	ironmont
Hopwood Bridge (Bridge 68),	Worcester and Birmir	ngham Canal, Alvechurch
	Worcester and Birmir B48 7AQ	ngham Canal, Alvechurch Hopwood	BDC ID ALV053
N/A			BDC ID ALV053
N/A Description / Summary	B48 7AQ	Hopwood	BDC ID ALV053
Hopwood Bridge (Bridge 68), N/A Description / Summary Early 19th century road cana Age, Authenticity and Rarity	B48 7AQ	Hopwood	BDC ID ALV053
N/A Description / Summary Early 19th century road cana Age, Authenticity and Rarity Early 19th century. Substanti	B48 7AQ	Hopwood ge.	BDC ID ALV053 ch stilt arris, with rope marks,
N/A Description / Summary Early 19th century road cana Age, Authenticity and Rarity Early 19th century. Substanti possibly an early repair.	B48 7AQ	Hopwood ge.
N/A Description / Summary Early 19th century road cana Age, Authenticity and Rarity Early 19th century. Substanti possibly an early repair. Architectural Interest Stilted arch road bridge, fairl	B48 7AQ l accommodation bric ally intact, some repl	Hopwood ge. acement brickwork to ar
V/A Description / Summary Early 19th century road canal Age, Authenticity and Rarity Early 19th century. Substanti possibly an early repair. Architectural Interest Stilted arch road bridge, fairly Dier caps, remain.	B48 7AQ l accommodation bric ally intact, some repl	Hopwood ge. acement brickwork to ar	ch stilt arris, with rope marks,
N/A Description / Summary Early 19th century road canal Age, Authenticity and Rarity Early 19th century. Substanti possibly an early repair. Architectural Interest Stilted arch road bridge, fair Dier caps, remain.	B48 7AQ l accommodation bric ally intact, some repl	Hopwood ge. acement brickwork to ar	ch stilt arris, with rope marks,
N/A Description / Summary Early 19th century road canal Age, Authenticity and Rarity Early 19th century. Substanti Dossibly an early repair. Architectural Interest Stilted arch road bridge, fairly Dier caps, remain. Historic Interest Marker of canal history.	B48 7AQ l accommodation bric ally intact, some repl	Hopwood ge. acement brickwork to ar	ch stilt arris, with rope marks,
N/A Description / Summary Early 19th century road canal Age, Authenticity and Rarity Early 19th century. Substanti possibly an early repair. Architectural Interest	B48 7AQ l accommodation bric ally intact, some repl ly typical design, part	Hopwood ge. acement brickwork to ard s of rounded stone copin	ch stilt arris, with rope marks, g to south parapet, and stone en

Uplands, Coopers Hill, Alvech	nurch
Coopers Hill	B48 7BX	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV054
Description / Summary
Mid-19th century dwelling.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Mid-19th century, very well p	preserved and rare lev	vel of decorative style.
Architectural Interest
	c, stone lintels and ci relieving arches with	lls to windows, with ston recessed brick spandrels	· · · ·
Historic Interest
Was home to local architect unknown.	Francis Bromilow in ea	arly 20th century; origina	al architect and occupiers
Townscape/Villagescape/Lar	ndscape Inter
Limited contribution due to l	ocation.
Former School, now a church	, School Lane, Alvech	urch
School Lane	B48 7SA	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV055
Description / Summary
Former mid-19th century sch	ool, now a Catholic cl	hurch.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Built 1856-8, poorly extended house, represents a rare surv		, .	l legible. Paired with the school e region.
Architectural Interest
By William Butterfield, tall a gable and to rear. Rear has a			ted arch window to street-facing el above.
Historic Interest
A key part of village life in th significance as a church.	ne 19th and 20th cent	uries. Since the 1970s it	has also taken on spiritual
Townscape/Villagescape/Lar	ndscape Inter
Limited, edge of village and	•	inent

The Peacock, Icknield Street, Alve	echurch
Icknield Street	B38 0EH	Forhill	BDC ID ALV056
Description / Summary
Early 19th century public house, 1	formerly part of t	he Weatheroak Estate.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Built circa 1826, extended and all preserved.	tered but principa	al form and a number o	of architectural features are
Architectural Interest
	oards. South gab	le stack flutes are mos	d roof with four, fluted brick end tly infilled. Rear range has dentilled ds. Rear stable block includes inset
Historic Interest
Social importance to surrounding Cadbury-owned land. Located at,		-	to be the only licensed premises on r travellers through the area.
Townscape/Villagescape/Landsca	pe Inter
Positive, landmark building at a h	istoric crossroads	s in an otherwise open	area.
Dingle House, Alvechurch
Birmingham Road	B31 4UE	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV057
Description / Summary
19th century farmhouse and farm	stead with uncon	verted outbuildings.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Assumed early 19th century, well subservient and does not detract.	•	ing unhorned timber sa	ash windows; extension to side is
Architectural Interest
Farmhouse appears to follow Geo roof. Windows have moulded corr has moulded cornice and pillaster	nices and are 2 ov		and a low-pitched, hipped slate rns, possibly original. Central door
Historic Interest
No known notable associations or	inhabitants.
Townscape/Villagescape/Landsca	pe Inter

Positive contribution to landscape as a partially preserved farmstead.

Outbuildings at Brookhouse Farm, Al	vechurch
Stonehouse Lane	B48 7BB		BDC ID ALV058
Description / Summary
19th century, 3 storey farmhouse with unconverted outbuildings.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Assumed early 19th century original; substantially rebuilt in 1858 (date stone), including farmhouse, but probably retained some parts of original outbuildings. Farmhouse is modernised but retains overall form; 3-storey height is rare. Rear workshop has unusual industrial character, rare in area.
Architectural Interest
TThree storey, three bay painted brid Windows are all modern, with segme workshop has large, multipane metal the centre, all under polychromatic,	ental arches, and c l windows at grour	entral door has later porch on and first floor, with timbe	on brick pillars. Rear
Historic Interest No known notable associations or inh	abitante
NO KNOWN NOTAble associations of min	idditalits.
Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape
Positive contribution to landscape as	a partially preser	ved farmstead.
Farmhouse, Woodlands Farm (Woodla	ands), Alvechurch
Chapel Lane	B48 7QJ	Rowney Green	BDC ID ALV059
Description / Summary
19th century farmhouse and farmstea	ad with unconvert	ed outbuildings.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Assumed to be 19th century, very fine and well preserved farmhouse. Adjacent barn is timber framed and likely to be earlier; warrants further investigation.
Architectural Interest
Two storey plus attic with two dormers in clay tiled roof with brick end stacks. Three bays with 8 over 8 sashes to both floors of right and left bays; central bay has infilled first floor window and 6 over 6 sash to ground floor, all horned. All windows have plaster quoin surrounds, ground floor also with drip moulds. The adjacent barn has visible queen post truss to the roof, with timber box frame to first floor; ground floor not discernible but possibly a rendered masonry base.
Historic Interest
No known notable associations or inhabitants.
Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape	Inter
Positive contribution to landscape as a partially preserved farmstead.

Lea End House, Alvechurch
Lea End Lane	B48 7AY	Lea End	BDC ID ALV060
Description / Summary
18th century farmstead with la	ter farmhouse and	unconverted outbuildi	ngs.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity 18th century origins, west barn Farmhouse is later, Arts & Craf		•
Architectural Interest
right gable and secondary proje	ecting gable off-cen sements with a unio	tre. Entrance door is que, beaded profile to	with projecting left gable, flush off-centre to right, adjacent to giant transoms and mullions and have r-centred brick arches over.
Historic Interest
No known notable associations	or inhabitants.
Townscape/Villagescape/Lands	cape Inter
	•	eserved farmstead: la	ndmark building on Lea End Lane.

Peacock Cottage, Alvechurch
Icknield Street	B38 0EH	Forhill	BDC ID ALV061
Description / Summary
19th century blacksmith's shop,	now dwelling, with	h unconverted outbuild	ling.
Age, Authenticity and Rarity
Early 19th century, maybe coev Modernised windows and doors			ve some similar detailing.
Architectural Interest
Two storey brick cottage with h moulds, matching the Peacock			rindows have projecting brick drip eentred brick arch.
listoria Interest
Historic Interest Noted as house, blacksmith's sh	on and garden on 1	842 tithe apportionme	ant
Noted as house, blacksmith's sh
Townscape/Villagescape/Lands	•
Positive contribution to crossro Inn.	ads area as a secon	dary landmark, adding	g to group value with the Peacock

20-22 Bear Hill, Alvechurch
Bear Hill	B48 7JX	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV062
Description / Summary
Late 19th century cottages.
Age, Authenticity and Rarit	у
Built circa 1882, very well p	preserved externally, a	rare example of simple	domestic work by John Cotton.
Architectural Interest
-	mber-modillioned verge		ck from a plain tiled roof. Each rge boards. First and ground floor
Historic Interest
No known notable associati	ons or inhabitants.
Townscape/Villagescape/La	andscape Inter
Positive contribution to cor	•	Hill: understated but ve	ary well detailed
The Swan Public House, Sw	an Street, Alvechurch
Swan Street	B48 7RP	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV063
Description / Summary
19th century public house.
Age, Authenticity and Rarit	y
Mid-19th century, well pres	served externally.
Architectural Interest
, ,		•	e of the entrance, which itself has shallow, segmental arches.
Historic Interest
Historic communal importa	nce to village.
Townscape/Villagescape/La	andscape Inter
	•	a public building among	a mainly residential street, but continues the sense of encl	-

Fairfield, Radford Road, Al	vechurch
Radford Road	B48 7ST	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV064
Description / Summary
Early 20th century detache	d dwelling.
Age, Authenticity and Rari	EY.
Built in 1906, appears to ha & Crafts at this scale.	ave modern windows bu	t otherwise well preserv	ed, a rare example in area of Arts
Architectural Interest
with two gable projections	and a low, sweeping ro	of with dormers at first	ick. Arts & Crafts in character, floor and attic level. The entrance ing towards the southern end.
Historic Interest
No known notable associat	ions or inhabitants.
Townscape/Villagescape/L	andscape Inter
	•	tively to the landscape a	s a unique, landmark building.
Hopwood House Inn, A441,	Alvechurch
Birmingham Road	B48 7AB	Hopwood	BDC ID ALV065
Description / Summary
19th century public house	associated with develop	ment of Hopwood Wharf	f .
Age, Authenticity and Rari	.y
Built in 1867, the building canal-facing façade remair	-	extended to the south an	d west, although its principal
Architectural Interest
	floor. The roof ridge ha	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	rubbed brick arches and two but these may be replicas as the
Historic Interest
Historic communal importa	nce to village and to th	e development of the ca	anal and its users.
Townscape/Villagescape/L	andscape Inter

Forms gateway with cottages opposite, marking location of canal/road intersection and the beginning of the southern portion of the village.

Wast Hills House, Alvechurch
Wast Hills Lane	B38 9ET	Alvechurch	BDC ID ALV066
Description / Summary
Early 20th century mansio	n built for W.A. Cadbury	/.
Age, Authenticity and Rari	ity

Built in 1905, the building has been altered and adapted but its overall form and character remain. Rare for its size and period.

Architectural Interest

Designed by Arthur E. McKewan, with a matching lodge adjacent to the access. The house is of pebbledashed brick with sandstone dressings, diamond patterned gables and green slate roofs, rather like overscaled Voysey. It has two storeys with attic and a spinal corridor to each floor with rooms at either side. The entrance front has a series of three gables at left and the single-storey service court at right. The fenestration is of two and three-light casements with stone surrounds and there are inserted 20th century windows to the first floor. The doorway is at far left. It has a cambered arch with a keystone and to the immediate right of this there is a datestone which is inscribed "C / WA+EH / 1905". To right of this are two conjoined gables, the left hand one of which has a projecting 20th century extension to the present dining room with a flat roof at ground floor level with four-light window. The kitchen court has a hipped roof with a louvred bellcote. The entrance hall has an inglenook fireplace with oak panelling, polychromatic tiling and a copper hood to the fire and fixed benches. There are stained glass windows to the inglenook showing a ship [probably of 1930s date] and to the heads of the basket-arched lights of the screen which divides the entrance lobby from the seating area. A broad spinal corridor at ground floor level has slender vertical panels to the walls which extend up to a plate rack and have niches with hood moulds and projecting shelves with brackets. The entrance hall staircase is of open-well design. The newel posts are of square section with carved foliage to the corners and caps. The study has fitted shelves, drawers and cupboards of mahogany. The mezzanine landing of the later [1910] staircase, at west, has a mullioned and transomed window of three lights including panels of Pre-Raphaelite design. Several of the ceilings at ground floor and first floor levels have panels with foliage in relief.

Historic Interest

Built for William Adlington Cadbury of the prominent local Quaker family. It was initially intended as a summer house for the family, who continued to also live at Edgbaston. Improvements in the roads between Wast Hills and Bournville and the purchase of a motor car made it possible to live at Wast Hills all year round and additions were built in 1910, also by McKewan. The Cadbury family gave the house to the University of Birmingham in 1968 and it was used as a conference centre until shortly before 2007.

Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape Inter

Despite its size, the dwelling is well concealed from public view, nevertheless it makes a positive contribution to the landscape as a landmark building.

Bordesley Hall, Alvechurch
The Holloway	B48 7QA	Rowney Green	BDC ID ALV067
Description / Summary

18th century hall and its former gardens and park.

Age, Authenticity and Rarity

18th century hall with possible earlier origins for the original park. The hall was heavily modified, extended and its immediate setting developed in the 20th century, however much of this has now been removed to make way for a residential development.

Architectural Interest

The southeast elevation is of most interest and comprises two storeys divided into five bays, with a projecting central bay with entrance portico under, it appears, a copper roof. First floor windows are 8 over 12 horned timber sashes and ground floor 12 over 12 to match. There are stone details such as a square string course and moulded cornice, but most detailing is lost due to the fact the building has been roughcast rendered. A raised forecourt is laid out in front of this elevation, from which there are restricted, but still available in glimpses, views out across the landscape, including the hall's former parkland and beyond.

Historic Interest

The hall's origins are associated with Lord Foley, and the land is thought to have originally been part of Bordesley Abbey's estate, sold to Edward Lord Windsor in the 16th century, following the Dissolution. A number of associated farmhouses and barns in the area also add to the historic group value of the Bordesley estate.

Townscape/Villagescape/Landscape Inter

The landscaped park has been eroded and subdivided and a tree belt south of the Hall now obscures much of the view to and from the Hall and its former parkland landscape, however views to the southeast remain possible, particularly in winter months when the deciduous trees shed their leaves. Despite erosion, there remain untouched pockets of the 19th century parkland, visible from the site and identifiable in aerial photography. This includes small stands of trees, ponds, boundary positions and the scar of one of the historic footpaths through the park.